

Dear Honorable Ministry of Communication

Please do not allow the auctioning off the spectrum. It would lead to monopoly forever by the big players. And also Canada has the highest cell phone rates, and very limited number of Telecom Providers.....Hmm seems like Anti-Monopoly Commission should investigate, Of course even with poor quality and exorbitant rates, they (ROGERS, Bell, AND Telus) still make profits the three amigos. That is because we the consumers does not have any choice.

The government should take a poll to see, how many are happy with their telecom provider, it will be an eye opener.

I have been customer of Bell, Rogers and MTS. I will can tell you firmly that MTS is far superior than these two. When I had a problem with my Internet connection, MTS guys came next day and replaced my network card free of cost, THAT IS RIGHT THEY GAVE ME A NETWORK CARD FREE. And I never had to pay any registration cost for the MTS Internet, they're cost 37% lower that other competitors.

We need more Telecom Players. 6% access charge that bell and others telecoms charge, what is the purpose for that flat charge, because all of the big players agreed to make a fixed profit, it is being charge from their customer. Now is that not price fixing, please remember, how they tried blocking VOIP.

Kevin
